18 In Re:) Bankruptcy Case
19 THOMAS J. KINDELL and) No. 10-63489-fra7
20 PAMELA S. KINDELL,) 21 Debtors.) MEMORANDUM OPINION 22 _____)

23 Debtors move for an order to "expedite" the currently scheduled 24 meeting of creditors in this case. The motion requests expedited 25 consideration, but does not request a hearing. For the reasons set out 26 in this memorandum, the motion is denied.

27 Relying on the motion and supporting affidavit, and the Court's 28 docket, the Court finds that Debtors filed their petition for relief 29 under Chapter 7 of the Bankruptcy Code on June 8, 2010. On June 9, 2010, 30 the Court issued a written notice identifying the Chapter 7 Trustee, and 31 notifying all parties that the meeting required by Code § 341(a) would be 32 convened on July 26, 2010, at 1:30 p.m., at the U.S. Courthouse in 33 Medford, Oregon.

1 On June 9, 2010, Debtors' counsel advised the Trustee:

2 Thomas Kindell will be out of state from July 15 to 3 September 21 conducting Evangelistic meetings in 4 Texas, Arizona and Southern California. These 5 Evangelistic meetings were organized and scheduled 6 several months ago. Due to Mr. Kindell's deep personal commitment to his faith, Mr. Kindell feels that he has an obligation to keep his word and be there to assist in coordinating and conducting the meetings that he helped plan.

7 Debtor's counsel goes on to request that the first meeting of 8 creditors be scheduled to a date prior to July 15. The Trustee responded 9 by e-mail, noting that she did not feel that the request fell within "the 10 parameters for reasons to reschedule." She suggested that Debtors file a 11 motion with the Court if they wished to have the § 341(a) hearing
12 rescheduled.¹

13 Code § 341 provides, in part:

14 (a) Within a reasonable time after the order for 15 relief in a case under this title, the United States Trustee shall convene and preside at a meeting of creditors.

16 * * *

17 (c) The court may not preside at, and may not attend, any meeting under this section including any final meeting of creditors....

19 The significance of these provisions was discussed by the 20 Bankruptcy Appellate Panel for the Ninth Circuit in In re Clark, 262 B.R.
21 508 (9th Cir. BAP 2001). In Clark the Panel held that a trustee was not

23

24 ¹ The Court understands that the United States Trustee for Region
18 has a set policy regarding rescheduling meeting of creditors.
However, the policy does not appear to be posted in any public place, and its precise terms are unknown to the Court. The Court suggests that the United States Trustee make his policy accessible, perhaps by posting on his office's website.

1 required to obtain a court order to correct an administrative error
2 arising out of the 341(a) meeting.

3 Section 341(c) places firm restrictions on the role of 4 bankruptcy courts in creditors' meetings. Requiring a 5 court order to correct ministerial errors in the 6 administration of those meetings takes the court 7 beyond exercising its purely judicial functions and 8 imposes administrative oversight on the court. Yet
9 § 341(c) was enacted to remove "from the bankruptcy 10 judge those administrative functions required under 11 the previous Bankruptcy Act. It is clear therefore 12 that the prohibition against judicial attendance was 13 enacted to relieve the Bankruptcy Judge of an 14 obligation incidental to an administrative function.

16 The Bankruptcy Court has jurisdiction to review decisions of 17 the U.S. Trustee (or a panel trustee) with respect to continuances of 18 341(a) meetings. See In re Gary W. Vance, 120 B.R. 181 (N.D. Ok. 1990)
19 (applying the Administrative Procedures Act), In re Judy Lind-Vance, 176 20 B.R. 772 (Bankr. W.D. Va. 1995) (viewing the 341(a) as a judicial 21 proceeding inherently subject to the Bankruptcy Court's authority).
22 Nevertheless, it is clear from the language of § 341(a) and the BAP's 23 interpretation of that language in Clark that the Bankruptcy Court owes 24 the Trustee a high degree of deference, and may review the Trustee's
25 decisions regarding meetings of creditors only for abuse of the Trustee's 26 discretion.

27 Based on the record before me, I cannot find that the Trustee
28 has abused her discretion in declining to schedule a creditors' meeting 29 prior to the currently scheduled date of July 26, 2010. The meeting was 30 scheduled for Medford, a place "not regularly staffed by the United 31 States Trustee or an assistant who may preside at the meeting." It

1 follows that the meeting could be scheduled for anytime between the 20th
2 and 60th days after the order for relief. See Bankruptcy Rule 2003(a).
3 The Debtors were on notice at the time they filed their petition of the 4 window within which a hearing may be set. Moreover, since the July 26 5 date was published and circulated to all interested parties, moving the 6 hearing to an earlier date imposes an undue burden on the Trustee and the 7 Clerk of the Court to notify interested parties, and creates a risk, 8 unreasonable under the circumstances, of interested parties not being 9 made aware in time of the new, earlier hearing date.

10 What remains to consider is whether the Trustee should have 11 authorized a later date to accommodate Mr. Kindell's schedule. I find 12 nothing on this record to suggest that the Trustee or creditors would be 13 prejudiced by continuing the 341(a) hearing to a date soon after 14 September 21, 2010, and to the extent the Trustee has refused to do so I 15 believe she has abused her discretion. Accordingly, I will enter an 16 order, to be lodged by counsel for the Debtors, that the matter be 17 continued to the first scheduled date for Medford creditors' meetings
18 after September 21, 2010.

19 The parties are cautioned that "the date first set" for the 20 meeting of creditors remains unchanged, and that duties described in Code 21 § 341 and elsewhere that must be performed by the date first set for the 22 meeting of creditors must still be carried out by July 26.

1 The foregoing constitutes the Court's findings of fact and 2 conclusions of law. As noted, counsel for the Debtors shall lodge a form 3 of order consistent with the foregoing.
